Memories wield a tender brush and
Paints the past in lovely shade,

(Printed by permission
Fred Wortham Jr., editor
The Record Stockman)

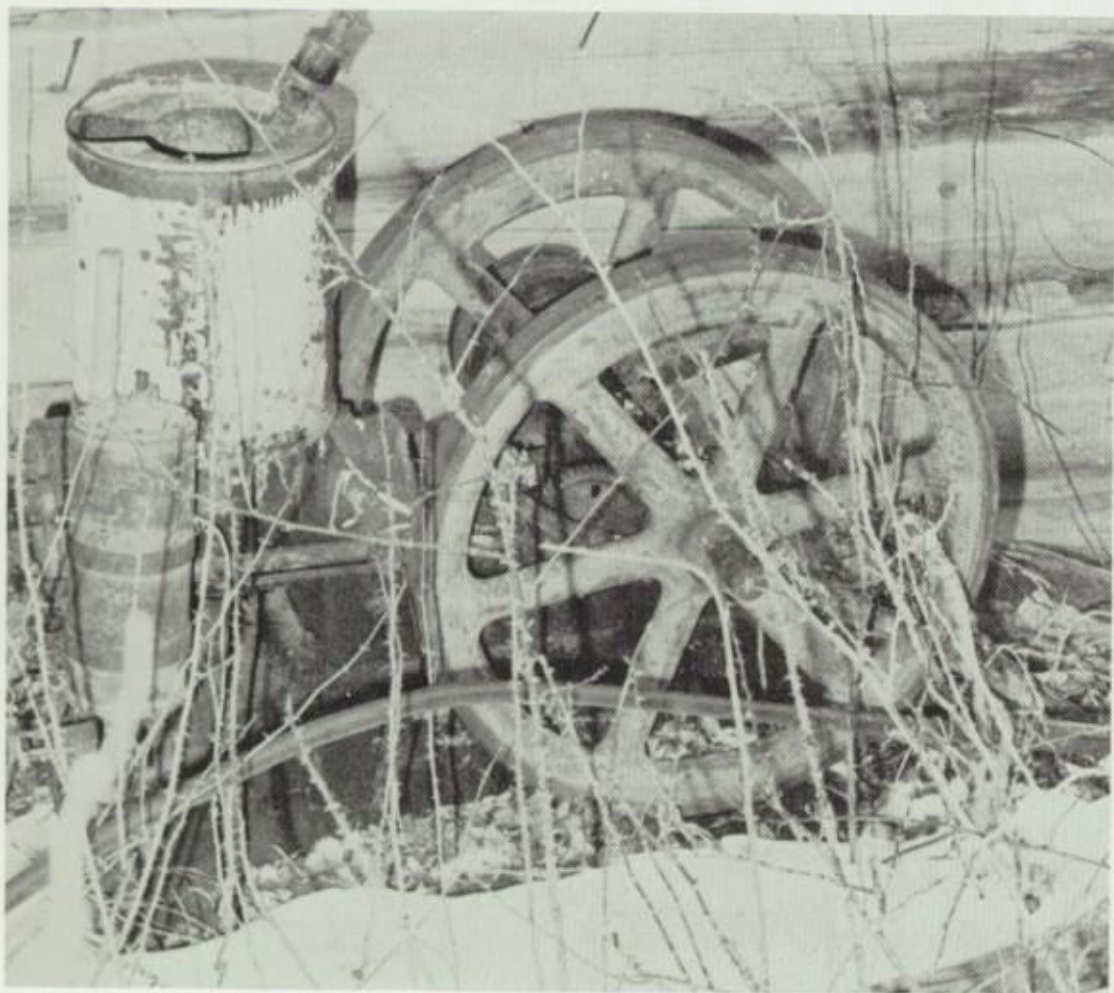

They soften outlines sharp and hard,
and makes the small hurts fade
into a soft blend that seems
Shadowless and dim as dreams.

Which adds gloriness to the past
And makes them seem
Shadowless and dim as dreams.
Memories lay their hand upon
Thoughts of old remembered strife,

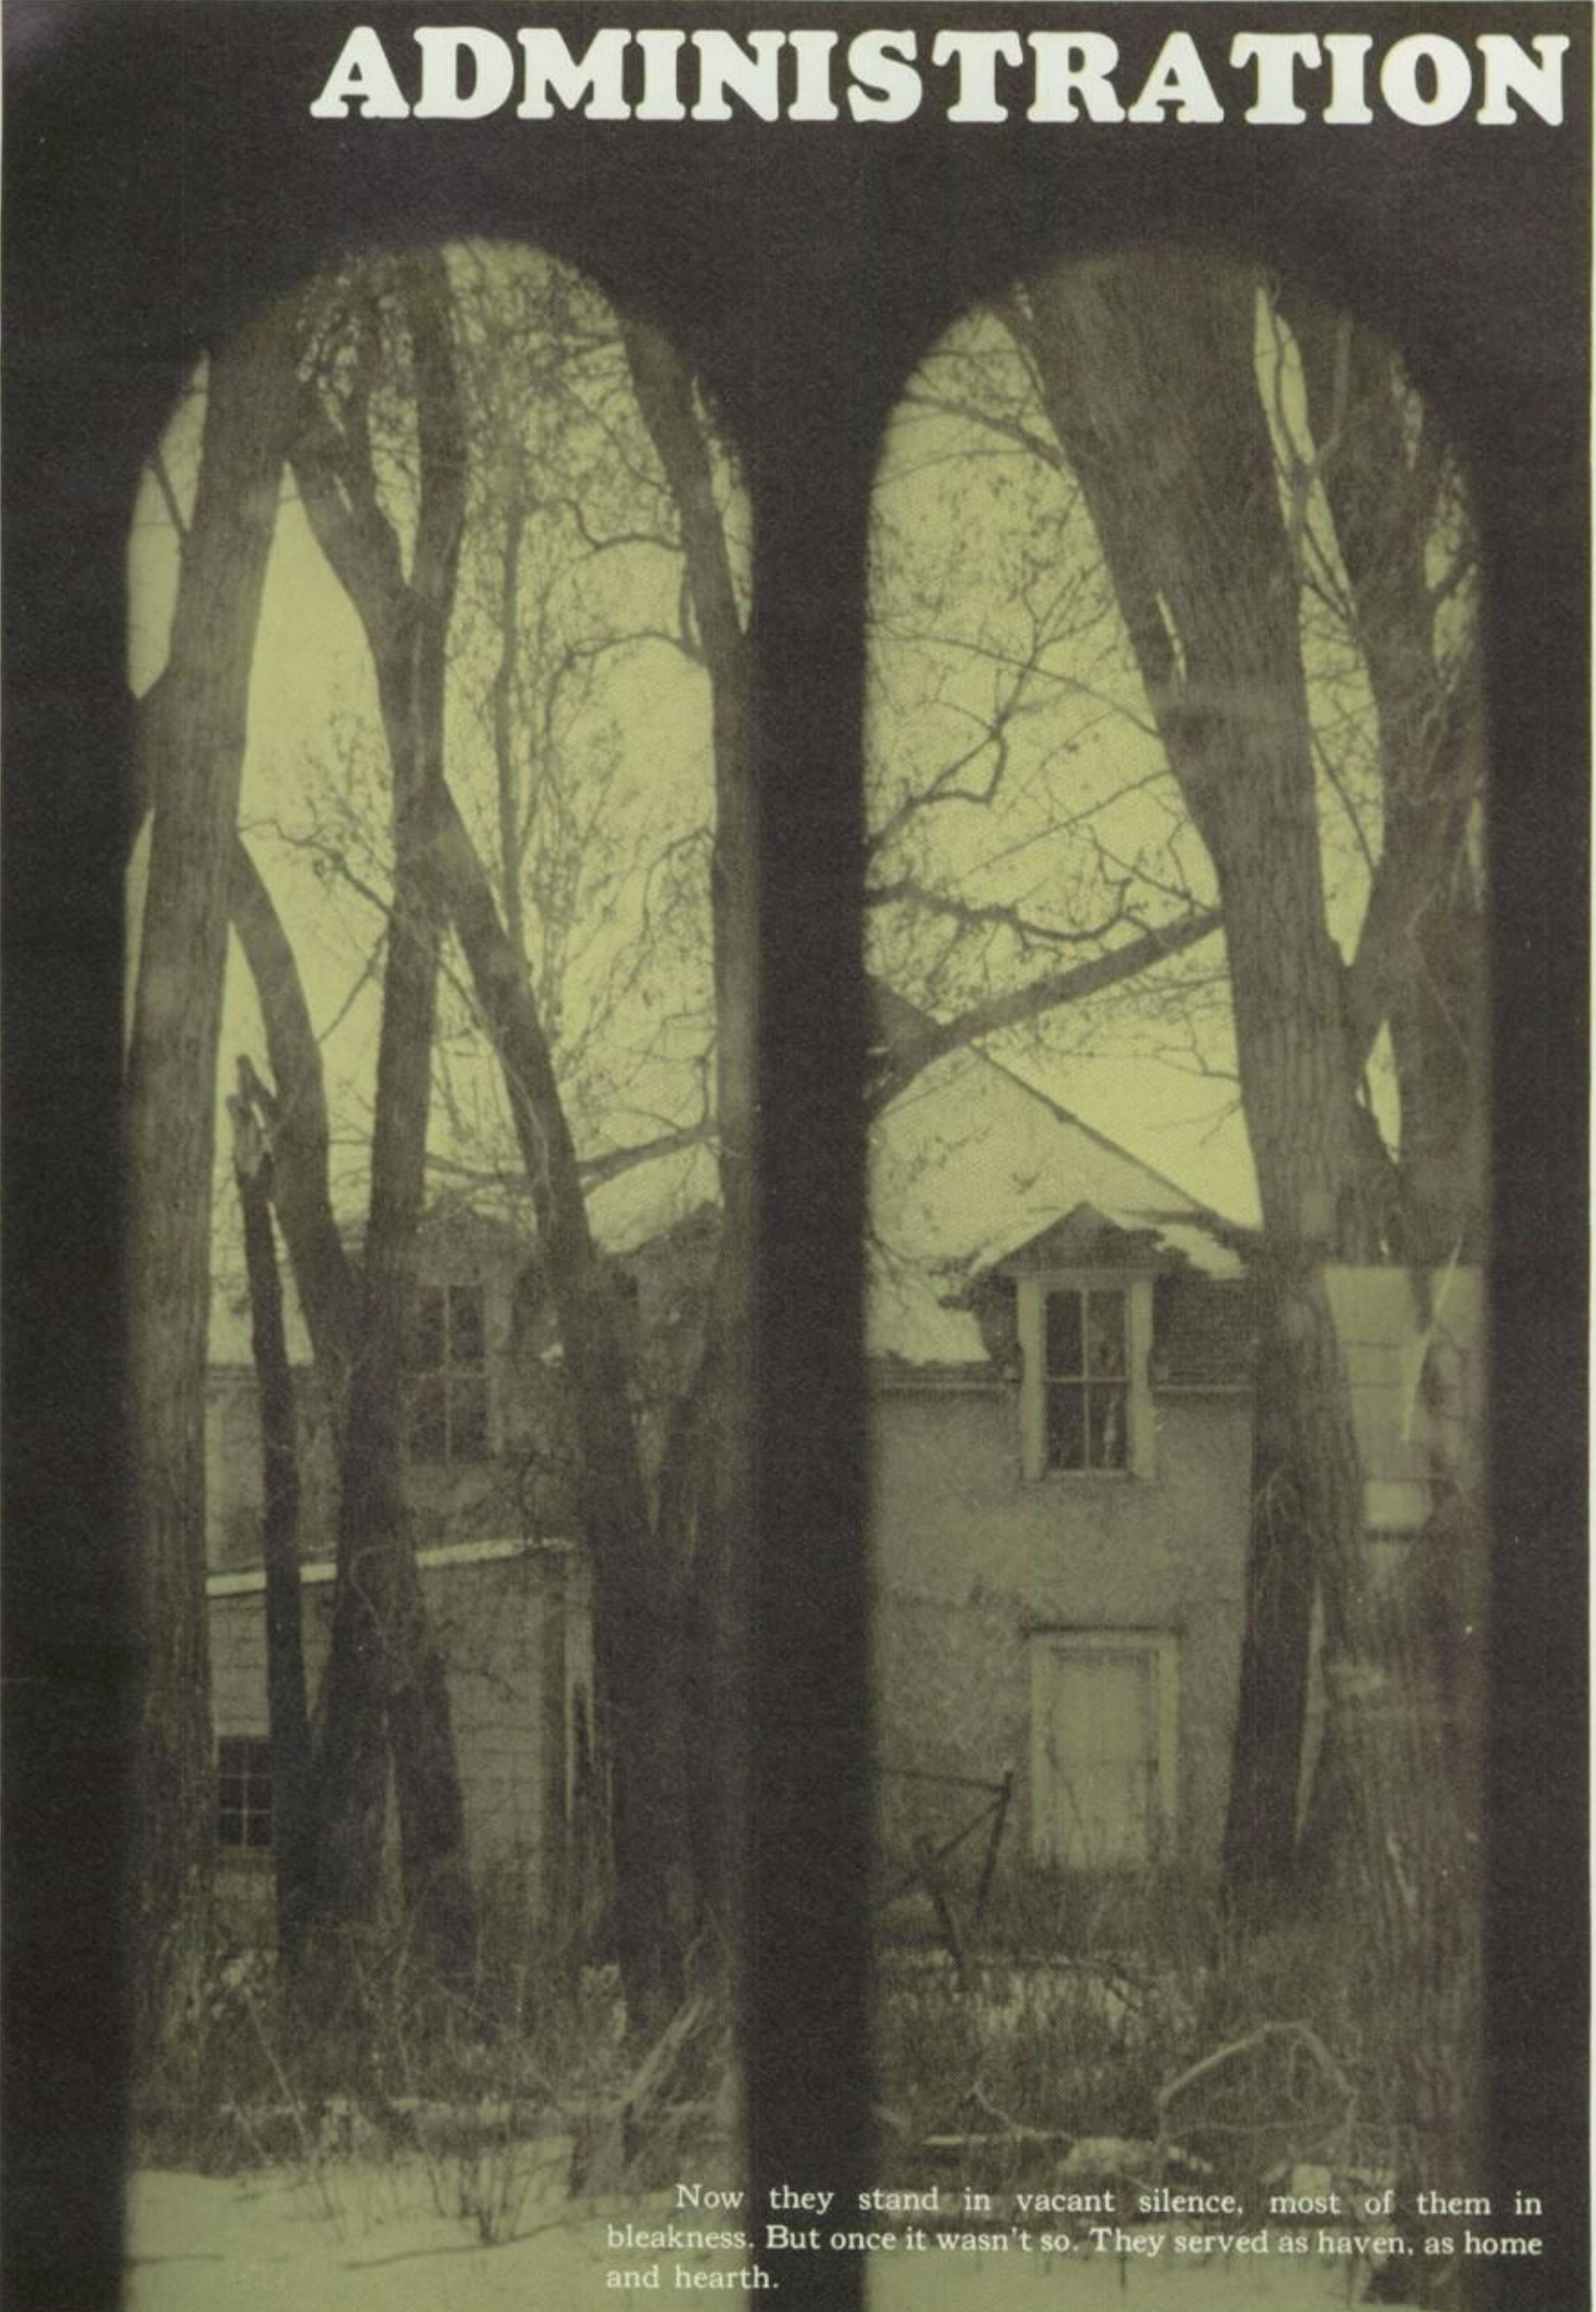

How much clearer we will see looking back with memory.

ADMINISTRATION

Now they stand in vacant silence, most of them in bleakness. But once it wasn't so. They served as haven, as home and hearth.

School Board Establishes Educational Directives

L to R: John Tanner, Frank Fear, Tharon Greenwood, Bob Robertson (Superintendent), Sandra Carr (Secretary to Board), Frank Bray, and Rodney Bennett.

The Board of Trustees and Mr. Robertson again worked hard this past year to provide the proper environment and facilities to enhance the learning process in the Big Piney schools. One of their notable accomplishments during the past year was their constant effort to keep the lines of communication open between the School Board, the faculty and the students. It is refreshing in this day, when so many schools are constantly experiencing friction among these groups, to work in a school where an honest endeavor is being made to have everyone work and learn in harmony.

Mr. Robertson Explores Ways Toward Progress

Accepting the responsibility and work of a superintendent, Mr. Robertson has fulfilled his commitment as an administrator to the school. Working in conjunction with the student body and the school board, Mr. Robertson is part of the checks and balances in making school policy.

COOKS

Preparing hundreds of meals per day is a staggering chore, but five individuals accomplish it in a good fashion. They also are very co-operative in assisting with various banquets.

CUSTODIANS

Housekeeping for buildings the size of the Elementary, Junior High and High School keep five custodians very busy. Their particular services are greatly appreciated.

SENIORS

It was here the man brought his fatigue at end of day from the windows through the night yellow light signifying warmth and shelter was within the walls.

Seniors Begin Concluding Year

The Seniors are taking their final journey through Big Piney High School. They are anxious for the future but apprehensive about leaving the security of the past. They are now mature young adults, having more responsibilities and more important decisions to make. The Seniors are about to make that final plunge of leaving home, family and friends to conquer the outside world. They are a close knit class and there will surely be tears at parting but also tears at reuniting.

They were the scene where some were born to the earth and they served as death's place.

Juniors Partake In School Activities

With only one year left ahead of them, the Juniors get heavily involved in school activities. To begin the year, they presented their Junior Class Play, "Tell Me That You Love Me, Junie Moon", which was directed by Mr. Rex Burnham and turned out to be a great success. Not only was the play entertaining but the Juniors also showed their talent with an enjoyable Junior Prom.

N.H.S. Promotes Scholarship

The National Honor Society consists of those students that have outstanding qualifications in leadership, character, service and scholarship. Each year new members are initiated into this organization based on these qualities. Every member is reviewed thoroughly by the faculty, and must maintain these qualifications to stay in the Honor Society. The money that is made by the organization through the pop machine is used for an annual trip for the benefit of the members. This highly select organization is a great tribute to those students who are involved.

Speech Club Excel At Speech Meets.

This year's Speech Club was again an active organization. They participated in invitational district and state meets. Those involved were as follows: Nancy Hale (Poetry), Karen Budd (extemporaneous), Sharlene Mitchell (humorous), Carla Kulinsky (dramatics), Lynn Tanner (dramatics), Bev Thoman (poetry), Mona Mitchell (extemporaneous and oratory), Zania Hubbert (dramatics), and Darlene Boe (poetry). With the fine job done, the Speech Club will return next year.

Zania Hubbert and Nancy Hale prepare themselves for the upcoming speech meet.

S.A.E. Develops Appreciation For Education

Formerly known as the F.T.A., Student Action for Education has proven to be an important part of BPHS. Under the leadership of Mrs. McKinley, these students learn about the many problems of being a teacher. They often assist teachers in the Elementary and Jr. High. Since most of these students are concerned about the future of education, they receive an excellent insight into its many aspects through this program.

Brad tries to get it all together for Lettermen.

The Lettermen consist of the best athletes in the school. Their participation on the court, the track, and the pool help to promote interest in sport activities in Big Piney High School.

They also take part in the community functions, such as the annual Easter Breakfast. Through the proceeds from the Breakfast the Lettermen travel to different places to view professional sport events.

The Lettermen add spirit and enthusiasm to the student body.

Cheerleaders Aim For Enthusiasm

Spirit and enthusiasm are the main ingredients of a Big Piney cheerleader. They Promote spirit by cheering at home games and away games and also by having pep assemblies.

Cheerleading is more than just wearing a Red and White uniform, it means showing the team you are behind them whether they win or lose.

Punchers Strive For An Undefeated Season

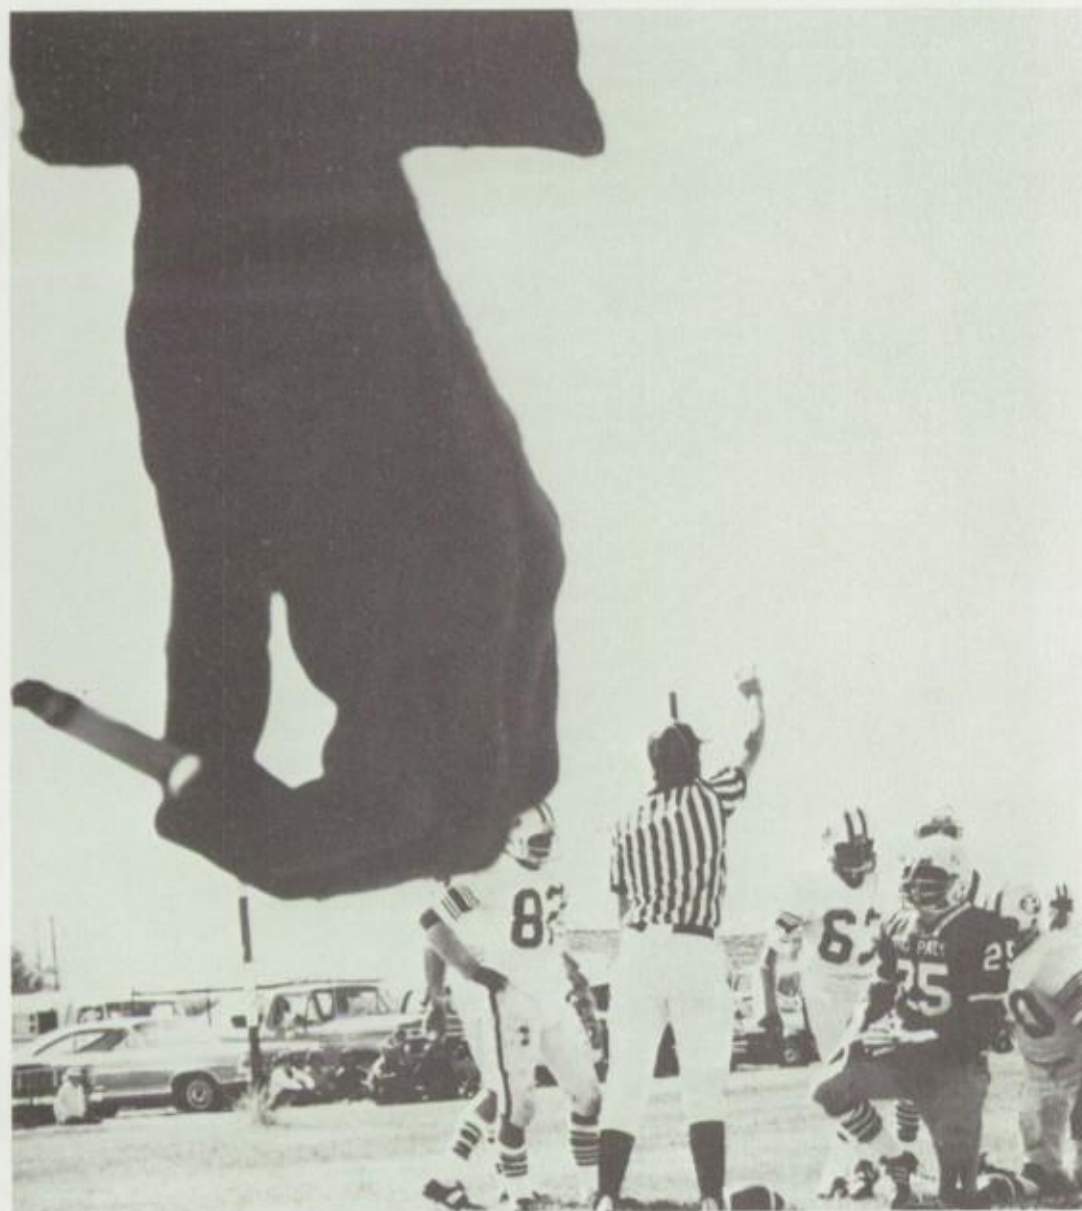

Under the coaching of Ray Clark and Bart Troutwein, the football team did extremely well this year. Their season average of five wins and two loses proves that the Punchers are tough competitors. The team was full of spirit, pride and exuberance, which is, of course, always a winning factor.

The swimming team gets psyched up for a meet.

Keeping in shape is a vital part of swimming.

The 1974-75 swimming season proved to be a very successful year for the swim team. They participated in two invitationals taking fourth at Glen Rock and a second at the Green River meet. Also swimming in two triangular meets, the swim team earned first place swimming against Riverton and Evanston and also a second place swimming against Green River and Greybull. The twenty-six member swim team won six dual meets while only losing three. For being one of the youngest teams in the area they had a very successful year and have a promising future.

Ping Pong Strikes Big Piney

Jin Soo Park (SHOWN AT LEFT) was Big Piney High Schools Ping Pong champion for the 1974-75 school year. Approximately 50 people were involved in the tournament, which was finally narrowed down to Mr. Mike Talley and Jin Soo Park.

This was the first year that B.P.H.S. has had a Ping Pong tournament and from the enthusiasm shown this activity will probably be continued next year.

All School Play A Big Hit

At the convention, Charlie intentionally trips over Algernon's table.

Experimental surgery has been performed on Algernon increasing his intelligence four fold. Later, the operation was tried on Charlie, who rapidly changes from a moron to a genius, far more intelligent than his teacher, Alice Kinnian, and the doctors who created the technique. At the peak of Charlie's brilliance, Algernon begins to show signs of regression.

Flowers for Algernon was a different sort of play, funny, tragic, romantic, but with a hope for the indomitable spirit of man.

Charlie hopes to be recognized by his father.

May Concert Puts It All Together

Closing a season of traveling to and from concerts and festivals, the Stageband performed their last concert May 7. It was an exciting end to a fully scheduled year. The concert was very special and thrilling with the solo work of lead trumpet player Bobby Shew, a very respected studio player from the Los Angeles area. Mr. Shew has worked with many well known bands such as Woody Herman and Manyard Ferguson. More recent engagement include Tony Orlando and Dawn, Seals and Crofts and Three Dog Night to name a few. The group ends the year as the No. 1 Stageband in the state and is sure of continued success under the direction of Ernest Northway.

A week's worth of decorating proved the theme of "Rocky Mountain High" to be both beautiful and interesting for this year's Junior Prom. A banquet at the Pit and Primer, with guest speaker Madge Funk, was followed by the dance held in the old gym. "Chester Mathis," a band from Casper, played for the Prom.

The mountain scene for Prom was both beautiful and effective.

OUR MEMORIES GILD THE COMMONPLACE
AND MAKES THE LOVELY WAYS SHINE.

ADD GLAMOR TO OUR DAYS AND
CHANGE THAT OLD PAST OF MINE
TO SOMETHING BOTH SWEET AND RARE,
RADIANT AND CLEAN AS PRAYER.

Memories of our school where we Learned that only good can be
Carries across the years
In time's eternal tapestry
Our memories are carried far and wide
To help us maintain a steady stride.

"So we leave you these days
 and these memories sweet,
 That were ours to have and to hold;
 May you, too, find the peace and the happiness here;
 That is many times dearer than gold."
 MADGE MCHUGH FUNK
